About BrightTV

BrightTV is a media service provider currently focused on aggressive growth and subscription-base expansion. To achieve its financial objectives, the company leverages viewership analytics to understand subscriber behavior and drive value through data-driven decisions.

Key Operations & Objectives

Strategic Focus: Partnering with Customer Value Management (CVM) teams to increase the overall user base and enhance subscriber retention.

Consumption Metrics: Tracks viewership on a per-session basis, where every individual subscriber session is recorded for granular analysis.

Growth Drivers: Identifies specific factors influencing consumption to optimize content scheduling and marketing initiatives.

Total Revenue R870 780

The Family Plan is the primary revenue driver for Bright TV, contributing nearly 45% of total earnings and suggesting a customer base that highly values multi-user accessibility. When combined with the Premium tier, these high-value

Bright TV has a 91% overall conversion rate, led by Adults and Young Adults (97–98%). The Kids demographic is the only outlier at 43.7%, representing a key growth opportunity for family-tier subscriptions.

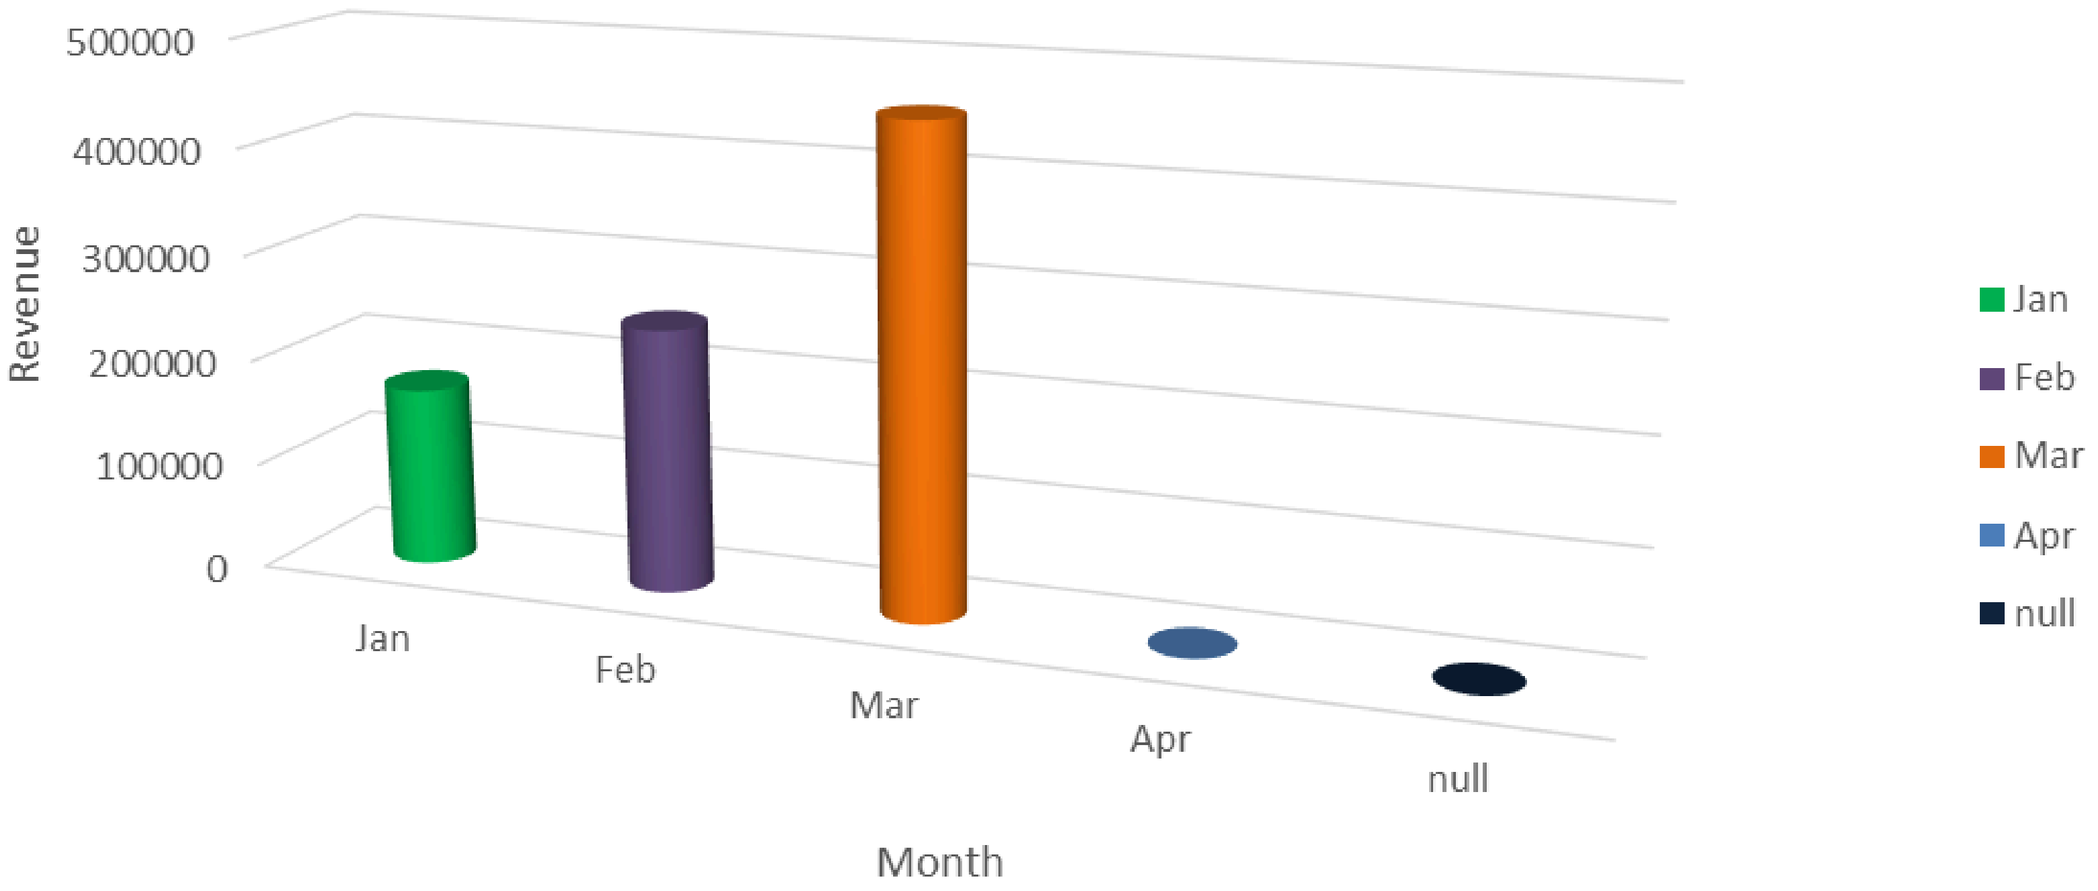
male	2384	270	866	202	3821	1409
Unknown	3	1004

Revenue grew steadily from January to March, with March alone generating 52.1% (R453,970) of YTD earnings. The 0.05% revenue recorded in April is a data reporting anomaly due to the collection cutoff, rather than a performance decline.



Weekend engagement significantly outperforms weekdays, with average session lengths increasing by 24% and accounting for 55% of total consumption time.

The Home Stayers segment is our primary growth driver, led by a dominant male audience of 3,201 users. However, a significant data gap exists during Off-Peak hours, where 74% of "Unknown" gender users are concentrated—likely representing shared family acc

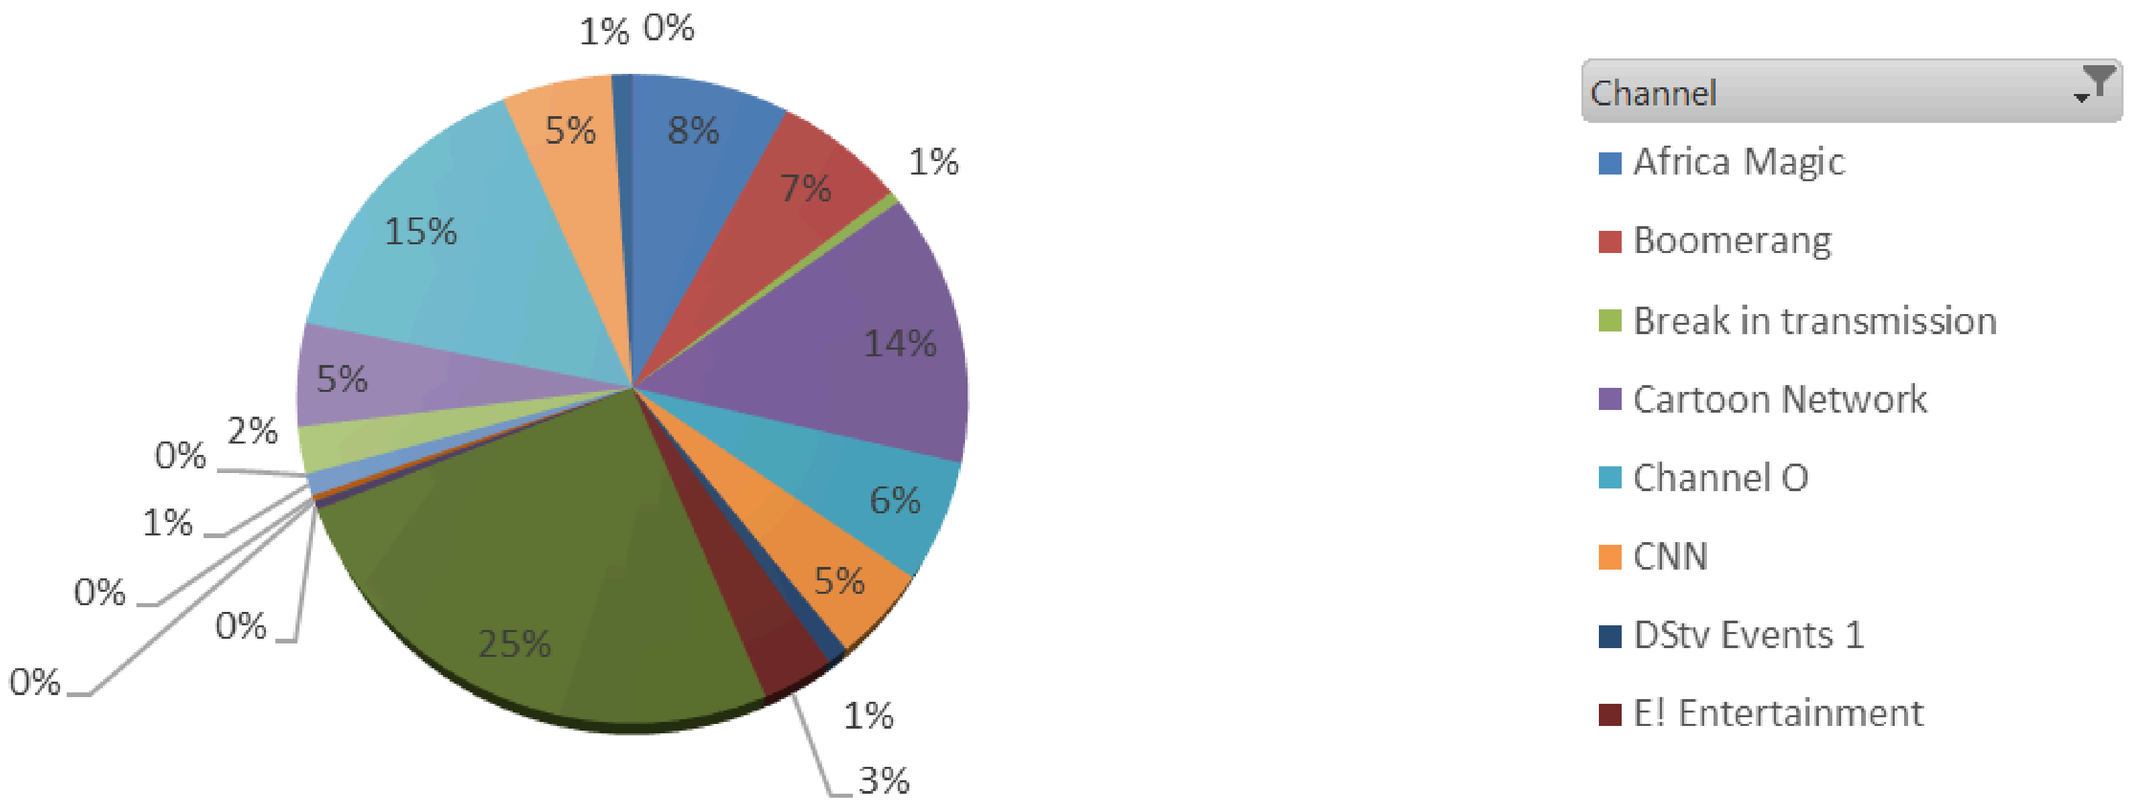
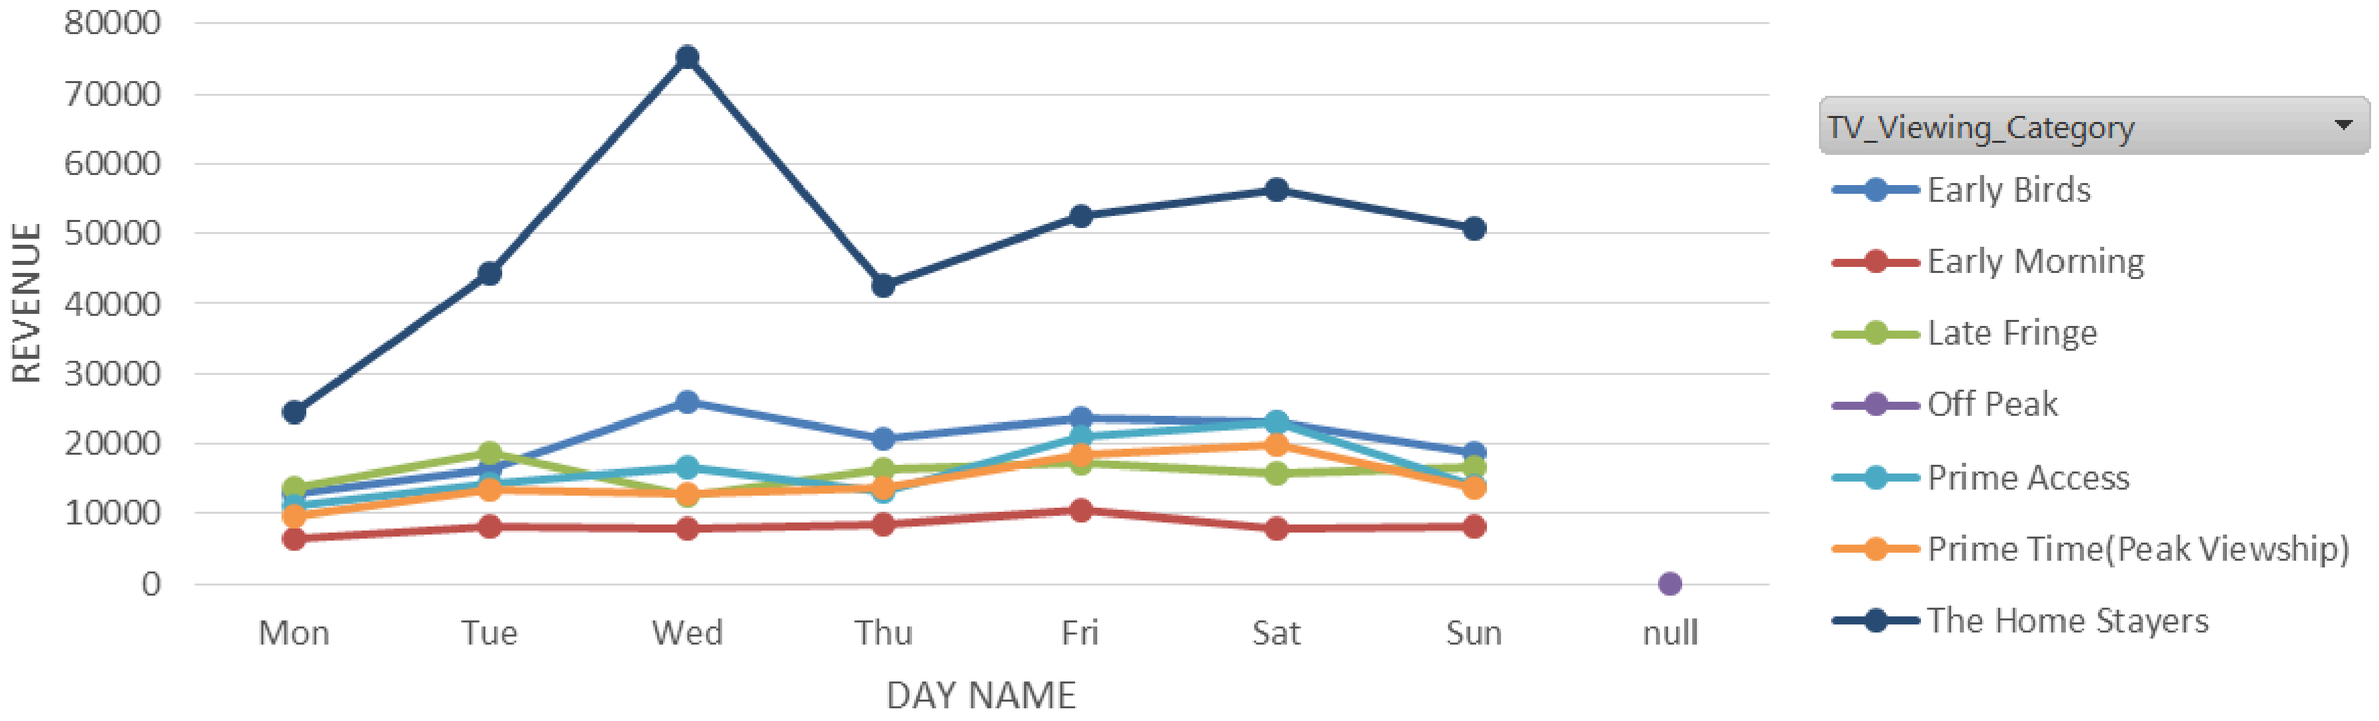
The ICC Cricket World Cup, Supersport, and Cartoon Network are our primary revenue engines, collectively driving 54% of total income. This confirms that live sports and premium kids' content are the highest-impact areas for content investment.



The Home Stayers segment is the platform's financial engine, driving a massive revenue peak of R75,000 on Wednesdays and a secondary surge on Saturdays. In contrast, other categories remain stagnant, highlighting a heavy reliance on mid-week engagement.



Gauteng is the primary revenue driver, led by the black demographic, while the Western Cape shows a distinct profile led by the coloured demographic.

Recommendations

1. Capture the "Family Tier" Opportunity

Strategy: Launch a "Family Pack" bundle or discounted kids-only add-on.

Goal: Use Cartoon Network (a top-three revenue driver) as the primary hook to convert the Kids segment, which is currently the only demographic where non-subscribers outnumber paying users.

2. Bridge the Gender Gap

Strategy: Diversify the content library with high-engagement dramas or lifestyle programming.

Goal: Increase the 9.3% female user base and implement profile-specific prompts to identify if the 75% "Unknown" off-peak viewers are actually female users sharing accounts.

3. Regional Expansion Beyond Gauteng

Strategy: Double down on marketing in the Western Cape and KZN by tailoring content to their specific demographic profiles.

Goal: Reduce over-reliance on Gauteng and stabilize national revenue against regional economic shifts.

4. Fix the "Off-Peak" Data Blind Spot

Strategy: Incentivize individual profile creation (e.g., "Create a child profile for personalized picks").

Goal: Resolve the 75% "Unknown" status of off-peak viewers to enable better ad-targeting and personalized content delivery.

5. Maintain Momentum in Sports & March Trends

Strategy: Secure long-term broadcasting rights for major tournaments like the ICC Cricket World Cup.

Goal: Protect the platform’s biggest winners, as sports and the March revenue surge (52.1% of YTD) are your strongest financial anchors.

Thank you.
